

CUSTOM-HOUSE, &c.

MEMORIAL

OF

Merchants and others, of the District of Plymouth, Massachusetts

JANUARY 21, 1833.

Referred to the Committee on Commerce.

To the honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States in Congress assembled:

The petition of the subscribers, merchants, and other citizens, resident in the District of Plymouth, within the State of Massachusetts,

REPRESENTS:

That the commercial interest in this district would be greatly promoted by the erection of a suitable building in the town of Plymouth, which should contain rooms for the accommodation of the custom-house, and stores for the safe deposit of such goods and merchandise as are, by law, placed under the care of the revenue officers of the Government; and, also, for the accommodation of the post office. The town of Plymouth is compactly built of wood, and the erection of a building, such as above suggested, of less combustible materials, would render more secure property deposited in the public stores, and the records and contents of the custom-house and post office. Your petitioners believe that the expense thereof to the Government would not exceed twelve thousand dollars; and they respectfully ask an appropriation therefor.

PLYMOUTH, January 8, 1833.

CUSTOM-HOUSE

MEMORIAL

Alfreds and others of the District of Plymouth, Minnesota

January 11, 1853

To the honorable Senate and House of Representatives of the United States at City of Washington

The petition of the undersigned merchants and citizens residing in the District of Plymouth, within the State of Minnesota

Sheweth:

That the commercial interest in this district would be greatly benefited by the erection of a suitable building in the town of Plymouth, which should contain rooms for the accommodation of the customs-house, and also for the safe deposit of such goods and merchandise as are by law deposited under the care of the revenue officers of the Government; and for the accommodation of the post office. The town of Plymouth is centrally situated on the bank of the Mississippi River, and the erection of a building of this kind would be of great benefit to the commerce of the district. The present building is a small one, and is not adapted for the purpose. The petitioners believe that the expense incurred in the erection of a new building would not exceed twelve thousand dollars, and they respectfully ask an appropriation therefor.

Plymouth, January 8, 1853

Alfreds and others of the District of Plymouth, Minnesota